How are classes assigned?

The class catalog is released in mid-January and students have until February 1 to submit their class preferences. There are five class periods a day and each student will select their 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, and 5th choice for each period. Students are placed in classes in the order that they register for camp. This means that the earlier a student registers, the more likely they are to receive their first choice of class. Photography and ceramics classes are an exception and are assigned by a random lottery for any student who registers on January 1, and then until space is full based on the regular class priority system. Please note that priority is not based on the date that the student submits their class preferences. Students who do not submit their class preference form and health history form by the February 1 deadline may lose their class placement priority. Students who register after mid-February should call before registering to check on class availability, 907-747-3085.

What if my child is homesick?

It is not unusual for students of all ages to miss home and family in the first few days of camp, especially if it is a student's first extended time away from home. Camp staff are trained to recognize homesickness and work especially hard to keep students busy and engaged in the camp atmosphere. If your student is experiencing homesickness, we recommend keeping calls short and helping your student focus on engaging in the camp community and activities.

Can friends and family members visit students at camp?

Family and friends are welcome at the evening artshare performances and the final performances. Rec time on some days also an opportunity to take your student off campus as long as your student does not have a prior camp commitment during that time. Visitors must check in with the counseling office upon arrival and be approved by the student's parent or guardian. Please keep in mind that students are busy and frequent or lengthy visits can make it difficult for students to fully engage in the camp experience.

What should I do if I cannot access my camp account or forgot my password?

The primary responsibility of all camp staff is the safety and well-being of each student. The counselor to camper ratio is 1:10. Students must check in twice a day with their counselor and attendance is taken for each class period. During rec time, students occasionally have the opportunity to go downtown. Middle school students must be accompanied by a counselor. High school students may go downtown in groups of 3 or more without a counselor.

Who are the counselors?

The counseling staff consists of a diverse group of talented people whose primary objective is helping students get the most out of the SFAC experience. The majority of our counselors are art students or graduates from various colleges and universities throughout the country.

What suggestions do counselors have for getting the most out of camp?

The single most important aspect in getting the most out of camp is to attend classes well rested and healthy. Students should get plenty of rest, drink lots of water, and make healthy eating decisions.

What is the dormitory like for residential students?

Students are housed in dormitories on the Sheldon Jackson Campus and will share a room with one other student. Rooms are equipped with beds and desks. A shared bathroom is a short walk down the hall. Boys and girls are separated by dormitory floors and are only permitted on their respective floors. Our dorms are unheated so students should bring warm clothes for sleeping. Students may submit the name of one friend on the roommate request portion of the registration form. Lights out is at 9:30 pm for Middle School Students and at 10:00 for High School Students.

Students who come to Camp with a cell phone may call their family to let them know they arrived safely, but are expected to turn it off and store it in their room for the remainder of Camp except during approved calling hours. Approved calling hours are from 6:00-7:45am and in the evening during free time between 8:00 pm and lights out. Cell phones used outside approved calling hours such as during classes, meals, performances, or after lights-out will be confiscated until camp is over.

Absolutely! In fact, the majority of our campers leave on the 6 am flight.

There are no travel options to get my child to Sitka by 3 pm on the first day of camp. Is it better to have my child arrive late on the first day or to come a day early?

It is better for students to arrive later on the first day of camp. Your child's counselor will make sure he or she is caught up with orientation and auditions will be rescheduled as the schedule permits. If it is not possible to arrive on the first day of camp and your child must come a day early, please be sure to indicate the arrival day and time on the travel form as well as email the office at office@fineartscamp.org. There is an $85 fee for students who arrive a day early or depart a day late from campus (this fee includes a shuttle from the airport or ferry terminal). All early arrivals and late departures must be noted in the students travel form and arranged with SFAC's Main Office by calling 907-747-3085 or emailing office@fineartscamp.org.

For students arriving and departing on other dates or at other locations there is a $15 fee for shuttle service. Sitka Fine Arts Camp does not provide shuttle service for parents or other family members.

My child is traveling to camp as an unaccompanied minor. Whose name and contact information should I provide to the airline for the person meeting my child at the airport in Sitka?

Paul McGlew (Director of Students), 907-747-3085, office@fineartscamp.org

Does my child need to bring his or her instrument to Camp for music classes?

Yes, students should bring their personal instruments to camp with the exception of: drums and piano. Rock band students should bring guitars and guitar cables. Camp will provide amplifiers. If your student plays an instrument that is difficult to transport to camp, contact the camp office during registration to see if any loaner instruments are available, office@fineartscamp.org.

Can my child begin music lessons on a new instrument at Camp?

The two-week intensive camp experience is best suited for students with some prior experience/instruction on their instrument. There are plenty of exploratory opportunities in other disciplines such as theater, writing, and the visual arts.

My student is signed up for a photography class. What kind of camera is needed?

Students need manual SLR cameras. The Camp has a limited number of loaner cameras available for rent for students who don't have personal cameras to bring. The fee for a camera rental is $25. To use a loaner camera, email office@fineartscamp.org to obtain a rental request form before the session begins. Loaner cameras are rented for the class period and must be checked out with the teacher for use outside of class.

Can my student leave campus during Camp?

Students can be checked out through the counseling office by a parent/guardian or a pre-approved adult, 18 years of age or older. Counselors must know when the student is expected back and have a contact phone number for the adult. It is best to call the office the day before to alert the Head Counselor. Parents can add authorized adults on the forms dashboard of their CampInTouch account.

Is there a camp lost and found?

The counseling staff does its best to reconnect students with their missing items during Camp. Families are responsible for the shipping and handling expenses should an item need to be mailed after the session is over.

What's the weather like?

In Sitka it can rain for days on end or be sunny for the entire camp. Be prepared for both extremes. Summer temperatures can range from 40-80 degrees. Dressing in layers is recommended.

My student has already attended Camp does he or she still need to turn in a teacher's recommendation form for this year?

Yes. We require a Teacher's Recommendation every year because our faculty use the recommendations to get to know your student and help tailor their teaching style to meet the needs of each child.

Is financial aid available?

We believe that all students should be able to participate in our programs regardless of their financial circumstances. Sitka Fine Arts Camp provides need-based financial aid for qualifying students.
